

Center For Sustainability

<http://www.bridgew.edu/sustainability/>

Mission Statement:

The Center for Sustainability at Bridgewater State College fosters the study and application of sustainable practices both on campus and throughout the region.

The Center views a sustainable society as economically vibrant, environmentally sound, and socially just, now and into the future.

The Center's goal is to use the knowledge and abilities of the BSC community to make sustainable practices an integral part of our campus, and to share these efforts with regional and global stakeholders.

(Note: The Cfs is in the process of redefining its mission and vision, and developing a new strategic plan that will focus on faculty development, student engagement, and campus-wide collaboration.)

Contact Information:

Dr. Ed Brush
Co-coordinator
ebrush@bridgew.edu
508-531-2116

Dr. Michele Wakin
Co-coordinator
mwakin@bridgew.edu
508-531-2514

Frequently Asked Questions:

1. How do I go about identifying sustainability topics to incorporate into my courses?
2. Is there funding available to support the integration of sustainability in my course or curriculum development?
3. Is there funding available to support student-faculty research projects that focus on sustainability problems?
4. I heard that BSC is developing a Climate Action Plan? What is this and how will this affect me?
5. How can I get more involved with campus and regional sustainability issues?