People get bullied because the mean person might be jealous of the person they are bullying. Just because a person's hair might be yellow or even blue or doesn't play your favorite sport, it should not allow you to bully them because that person is a person just like you and has feelings too. Just because people are different it does not mean you should pick on them. Being different isn't bad because I'm different, and it makes me, who I am. People shouldn't judge others by their looks, but accept them. If no one bullied anyone else but just let them be themselves, then we would be better people and live in a much better place.

Here are some tips to help you if you are ever bullied:

1. Walk away
2. If the bully follows you tell them to leave you alone.
3. Tell a teacher or an adult in charge about the bully so can they can get talked to.
4. Never fight with a bully, always turn away from punching them.
