Why
 Do People
 Get Bullied Around

Why do you think people are bullied by other people?
 Here are some reasons why I think people bully other people:

Reason #1: Some people tattle on each other and the person who is tattled on reacts with anger and bullies the person who tattled on them.

Reason #2: People laugh and make fun at the bully because he is not very smart in some of his classes at school. The bully feels sadness and anger and the bully reacts by being hurtful to the people who have made fun of him.

Reason #3: The last reason might be that the bully looks different and talks different than some of the other people in the school. So the bully feels threatened and reacts with anger, threats and sometimes with violence to the people who have hurt him.

Do you think it is fair that people are bullied around?

I do not think it is fair that other people bully each other. The reasons that people bully each other are not good reasons. Instead of bullying you could talk to a teacher or another person that you trust. By talking about your feelings it would make you feel better. Maybe it would help you to understand why people behave the way they do.

Instead of bullying the person that hurt you, you could talk to that person and tell them why they hurt you and you would like to talk about it instead of being angry and hurtful.

I know for a fact it is not OK to bully other people, because I would not want anyone to bully me.
