If bullies just lived by the golden rule!

Bullying happens to many kids, so let me tell you why it might happen to you. It may just be that you're more popular than someone else and that person, the bully, wants to cause you some unhappiness. Also, it might be that your friends are really nice and someone is jealous of your friendship, so they start bullying you. Or, you could be bullied for reasons that don't make any sense. A person might like you, but they don't want you to know it, so they start bullying you to get your attention. Finally, you may be bullied because someone just thinks you're different. This is not right because everyone is different, just like snowflakes. Now you know some of the reasons why kids get picked on and none of these reasons are fair.

Now that I've told you some of the ways a bully picks on you, let me tell you why it's unfair. First of all, how would the bullies like it if they were the ones getting bullied! Next, the bully might really hurt someone with their words or their bodies. It's very wrong to hurt someone, who has done nothing to deserve it, by bullying them for any reason. Finally, bullies make you feel very low, like it's the worst day of your life. If bullies just lived by the golden rule 'do unto others as you would like done unto you' there wouldn't be any bullies!
