Bullying

There are a lot of ways to help someone being bullied. You can stand up to someone by telling them what they're doing is wrong. If you need help you should tell an adult. Stay near the person because the bullies usually bully when the person is alone. If that doesn't work get the person away from the bully. Talk to your friend who's being bullied and let them know they have your support. There are a lot of ways you can help stop bullying.

I stood up for my friend on the bus when he was being bullied. A couple of days were teasing him and I told them to stop. It made my friend feel very good inside. It also made me feel proud. If you ever see somebody getting bullied, don't be afraid to help.
